24 DEAD SO FAR IN HOLIDAY ROAD MISHAPS

You Can Celebrate Tonight, Or Just Sleep The Old Year Out

Tonight's the night—as if you didn't know—to celebrate the arrival of the New Year and sing Auld Lang Syne to 1955. Miss Martha Cain demonstrates (above) the popular styling and mood for the stroke of 12-midnight.

A number of persons, thankful for a past year rich in material and spiritual blessings, will attend church Watch Night services to welcome in the New Year.

While still others like Tom Pastier (above) probably will fall asleep on the davenport and miss the midnight cheers of a Happy New Year! (All pictures were posed by News staff employees).

'Home-Made Bomb' Only Weather Balloon

State highway patrolmen were called out at 10:15 a.m. today to investigate a report by three hunters of a "home-made bomb" found in a field along the Concord Church Rd., six miles north of Salem—but the "bomb" proved to be a Navy high altitude weather balloon.

City police received the call from the hunters and relayed the information to the patrol. The weather device will be mailed back to the Lexington Signal Depot at Lexington, Ky. where it originated.

'Hoax' Youth Dies Of Burns

Said He Was Chained, Set On Fire By Trio

CLEVELAND (U.P.)—Twenty-five days ago, Earl R. Fryman, 17, lurching naked and bleeding through the rear entrance of a hospital. He was chained to a tree limb and burns covered 80 per cent of his body.

The youth, who gasped to hospital attendants a story about having been tortured by three teenagers in Metropolitan Park, died last night.

His story was not believed by police, who suggested Fryman planned a hoax to avoid going to school and got more seriously burned than he had intended.

Detective Capt. David E. Kerr said that because Fryman had been under sedation almost all of the time he was at Fairview Park Hospital, "detectives spoke only a few words with him." He added: "We are giving the facts to the coroner, who will rule."

Fryman was under care of a psychiatrist, whose records were not made available to the police department. A year ago he disappeared and when found in Miami, Fla., he claimed he had been kidnapped.

In the story he mumbled to attach at Fairview Park Hospital, he said he had been picked up as hitchhiker by three teenagers who kept him prisoner while they drove around all day.

Then they took him to the park, stripped off his clothes, chained him to a tree, doused him with turpentine and set him afire. . . all because they hated him, he insisted.

Detectives began to doubt his version of the story when they found Fryman's clothing in a river. In a pocket was a movie ticket stub indicating he had attended a motion picture house that day. A hardware store clerk told police Fryman himself bought the locks and chains that bound his body.

Chest Drive Falls Short By $1,224

Bylaws of the Community Fund Association will be revised and rules and regulations of the association altered, it was decided at a meeting Wednesday of the Community Fund Council in the Chamber of Commerce rooms.

Howard E. Firestone, a director on the board, presided in the absence of chairman George Emery when it was decided to table further discussion until Jan. 25, awaiting committee reports on the revision idea.

In other business it was decided to drop further campaigning for the current Community Chest fund drive which fell short by $1,224.56 of the $49,720 goal. Only $48,495.44 was taken in by workers and captains during the drive which was extended over several weeks time.

It marked the first time in many years that the annual chest fund campaign has not reached the quota.

Johnson has the added personal problem of a heart attack suffered last July which is expected to slow down the strenuous pace at which he had driven himself as Senate leader.

Knowland's biggest difficulty may stem from his evident intent to run for president if President Eisenhower decides against another bid. The outspoken Californian makes no secret of his differences with Eisenhower over foreign policy. As a campaigner for president, he might be stressing his opposition to parts of the Eisenhower program while, as Senate GOP leader, he'd be expected to help it through.

Toll 50% Of Early Yule Holiday Traffic Deaths

By The Associated Press
Traffic deaths in the early hours of the New Year weekend holiday were about 50 per cent below the heavy toll in the first part of the long Christmas holiday.

Early reports showed at least 24 persons had been killed in auto accidents since the count started at 6 p.m. (local time) Friday. In the corresponding period a week ago, the traffic toll was approximately 50.

4 Killed In Ohio

The count of traffic deaths at 8:30 a.m. (CST) Saturday included 4 deaths each in Ohio and New York; 2 each in California, Louisiana, Massachusetts, Michigan and Washington, and one each in Illinois, Kentucky, Maryland, New Jersey, New Hampshire and South Dakota.

The National Safety Council has estimated that at the end of the long holiday weekend — midnight Monday — 420 persons will have been killed in motor vehicle accidents. That would be a record for the New Year period, surpassing the high mark of 407 set during the four-day New Year holiday at the end of 1952 and the start of 1953.

Police were alerted for emergency action aimed at holding down the traffic toll. Drastic traffic law enforcement was ordered by officials after the record breaking holiday traffic toll of 609 over the Christmas weekend.

Guardmen Help Patrol

Four states, Illinois, Wisconsin, Michigan and Arizona, ordered national guardmen to help patrol highways. Planes were being used in Illinois and Louisiana to scout above highways. Extra police were ordered on duty in many cities.

Generally dry weather appeared in prospect for most areas. The National Safety Council says the traffic volume is not as heavy over the New Years as at Christmas. Each year since the end of World War II the toll at Christmas has been higher than at New Year's.

The over-all violent death toll last weekend was 782, including 609 traffic, 68 in fires and 105 in the miscellaneous accident class. The 609 figure represents traffic deaths actually counted during the holiday period and is considered official for comparative purposes.

Pictures of the shooting were widely publicized for the first time in France Thursday in L'Express. Paris daily supporting premier Pierre Mendes-France's bid for a political comeback in the Monday voting. Mendes-France, fighting Faure and the premier's allies, has based his campaign on the 14-month-old nationalist rebellion in Algeria. The former premier says the Algerian strife must be halted by an agreement such as he made with the Tunisians or it may turn into another defeat like Indochina.

Publication of the shooting pictures produced the most dramatic development in the election campaign. The Interior Ministry charged Thursday that Georges Chassagnac, 34, a Frenchman and Algerian correspondent for U.S.-owned Fox Movietone News, had bribed the unidentified gendarme in order to get the pictures.

Chassagnac flew to Paris from Algiers early Friday and denied indignantly what he called "scandalous accusations against my company and myself." He added: "I never asked for any posing of pictures. I never saw the gendarme before. I have never seen him since, and I certainly never bribed any gendarme."

Finally, prior to Faure's speech at Dole, Interior Ministry officials acknowledged there was no evidence to back the earlier charge of bribery in connection with the shooting.

Johnson ordered Mrs. Ricks held in the Brockville jail pending a preliminary hearing Jan. 6.

Ontario provincial police and other officials said Mrs. Ricks had called the police office at Westport before dawn Friday and told Constable Clifford Perry:

"There's been a shooting. Will you come right out?"

Inspector David Adair of the provincial police's criminal investigation branch gave this account:

A party was held at the Ricks cottage Thursday night, attended by Knapp, and Francis (Jake) Byrnes, of Westport. Mrs. Ricks, who neighbors say had known Knapp for 20 years, has vacationed at the cottage annually while operating the Royal Rideau Lodge on Mud Lake, 40 miles north of Kingston.

Knapp, a widower and father of a 12-year-old son, left the cottage after midnight. He returned in a drunken condition about 4:30 a.m., and the shooting is believed to have occurred shortly after that. Knapp was shot in the abdomen with a German Mauser 7.6 mm. pistol.

Knapp has served as a fishing guide for wealthy American sportsmen in Ontario.

Delayed reports and later deaths from injuries suffered during the 78-hour period increased the Christmas traffic toll to at least 664.

There were 286 traffic deaths during the two-day New Year holiday of 1954-55.

For comparative purposes for the traffic count for the Christmas and New Year's holidays, The Associated Press made a survey in a non-holiday weekend period, Dec. 9-12. The count was 384.

French Election Set For Monday

Algeria 'Atrocities' Create Controversy

PARIS (U.P.)—Bitter political battling over charges of atrocities in Algeria brought the French election campaign to a heated close today. The voters will pick a new National Assembly Monday.

Premier Edgar Faure Friday night condemned the "murderous act" of a French gendarme who shot down an apparently unarmed Algerian prisoner last August. But his government backed down on earlier charges that a cameraman for an American newsreel company had bribed the gendarme to do the shooting so he could take the pictures.

Contrary To Instructions

The premier said the shooting was "contrary to all regulations and all instructions" for coping with rebellious nationalist extremists in Algeria. However, he added that it was deplorable that the incident should have been used for what he called last-minute political exploitation.

Pictures of the shooting were widely publicized for the first time in France Thursday in L'Express. Paris daily supporting premier Pierre Mendes-France's bid for a political comeback in the Monday voting. Legless Veteran Believes He Will Win Fight For Pension

WASHINGTON (U.P.)—James Kutcher said today "I think I will win" in his fight to keep his $329-a-month government compensation for loss of his legs in World War II.

Kutcher spoke to a newsman following a Veterans Administration hearing Friday to determine whether he should be stripped of his veterans benefits because of allegedly disloyal activities.

Peyton H. Moss, chairman of the VA's Committee on Waivers and Forfeitures, said it would be next week or later before that group can reach a decision.

A committee verdict in Kutcher's favor presumably would end the matter. Otherwise, VA officials said, he could appeal to a VA appeals board. Kutcher's attorneys said they would take the case to court if necessary.

Kutcher, a balding, stocky man who lost his legs under German mortar fire, spoke in quiet tones at the two hour hearing. But he made no secret of his present and past devoted membership in the Socialist Workers Party, an organization on the attorney general's subversive list.

The House Committee on Un-American Activities had described the party as a "dissident Communist group," which follows the teachings of Leon Trotsky, rather than of Russian Communists.

Kutcher said he will not give up his party membership even if the VA does end his benefits. He said neither he nor the party advocated violent overthrow of the government.

"He said he and his party want a 'Socialist society with planned production for use instead of profit,' and that 'we believe in the use of constitutional measures' to bring this about. He said the Soviet Communists 'are very bitter opponents of ours.'"

He denied under oath that he had made during the Korean war a number of statements which, it was alleged, "rendered assistance" to Communist China and North Korea.

This was part of Kutcher's reply to the charges publicly produced by Moss at the start of the hearing.

There was no public testimony to support the charges. Kutcher's request that he be confronted by witnesses against him was denied. Moss said "the evidence shows" that in July 1950 and the summer of 1951 Kutcher attended a party

New Councilmen, Other City Officials Sworn Into Office

Following a brief, final session by the present Council, councilmen for the 1956-57 legislative body took the oath of office last night.

The last act of the 1954-55 Council was the passage of an emergency ordinance transferring funds in the war department. Council unanimously approved the transfer of $346.34 from the supply payroll to the distribution payroll, and $404 from pump operation to pipeline extension funds.

Those sworn in by outgoing City Solicitor W. J. Hunston were: Curtis Vaughan, council president; Alroy Bloomberg, fourth ward; Herman C. Kniseley and Arthur L. Hanna, councilmen-at-large; R. M. Linder, first ward; Mrs. Mary Bryan, second ward; and Harold Astry, third ward.

Mrs. Helen R. Coyne, city auditor, and James D. Primm Jr., city solicitor, also repeated the oath of office.

Fred Koenreich, councilman-at-large, and Orvil C. Hoover, city treasurer took the oath of office this morning in Hunston's office.

Mayor Dean B. Cranmer was sworn in Thursday by Probate Court Judge Louis Tobin in Lisbon.

Three townships, Hanover, Fairfield and Elkrun, have already exceeded their goals. The amounts they have collected, with their goals in parentheses, are: Hanover $544.58 ($500); Fairfield, $2,884.19 ($2,775); and Elkrun, $211.97 ($210).

Perry Township residents have contributed $6,900.25 to date, $599.75 short of their $7,500 goal.

Proceeds from the seal sales are used to provide free chest X-rays for the early detection of tuberculosis.

Congressional 'Big 4' Face Major Task In Coming Year

WASHINGTON (U.P.)—Four men who provide a combination of youth and age along with experience and reputations for hard work will guide Congress in 1956.

The "big four" on Capitol Hill during the new session opening Tuesday will be:

Sam Rayburn, 73, who has been Speaker of the House for more than 11 years in all—longer than any other man.

Lyndon B. Johnson, like Rayburn a Texas Democrat, whose selection as Senate Democratic leader three years ago at 44 made him the youngest ever to hold that post.

Joseph W. Martin Jr., 71, a Massachusetts Republican who has led his party colleagues in the House for 17 years and served four years as Speaker.

William F. Knowland, 47-year-old Californian whose rise to the Senate GOP leadership in 1953 made him one of the youngest majority leaders in history.

They face a major task in a presidential election year.

The Democrats control both House and Senate by thin majorities. The Republicans hold the presidency and its empire of executive agencies. Not only the White House, but all House seats and one third of the Senate seats will be at stake in November.

Rayburn and Martin, Johnson and Knowland will have their hands full in closing party ranks behind party programs while still encouraging the moderation and compromise that are necessary to legislative accomplishments.

Rayburn has been a staunch supporter of the Democratic program—with a capital "D"—since he entered Congress with the first administration of Woodrow Wilson. He may find it harder to keep his own temper in check as the partisan spirit fans hotter. The same goes for Martin, a House member since 1925 and a GOP stalwart long before that.

Johnson has the added personal problem of a heart attack suffered last July which is expected to slow down the strenuous pace at which he had driven himself as Senate leader.

Knowland's biggest difficulty may stem from his evident intent to run for president if President Eisenhower decides against another bid. The outspoken Californian makes no secret of his differences with Eisenhower over foreign policy. As a campaigner for president, he might be stressing his opposition to parts of the Eisenhower program while, as Senate GOP leader, he'd be expected to help it through.

Bible Words for Today

PHIL. 1:21 "For to me to live is Christ, and to die is gain."

In these words we find the secret of the Apostle Paul's victorious and abundant life. He was living now for Christ. Every other motive and passion was secondary while Christ was first in his life. This way of life has its present compensations, however Paul confidently tells us the real payoff is what is on the other side of death. Death cannot be counted a loss to the person who lives for Christ, but rather it is a gain, an addition in every case, Christ alone holds the key to happiness now and happiness hereafter.

Confident Living

By NORMAN VINCENT PEALE

How to Have Many Happy New Years

One of the greatest experts in starting a new year was my own father. Every year was new and thrilling to him.

Just a few weeks ago my father died. He was 85 years old. I never knew anyone who loved life more than he did or got more out of living. Shortly after his death I received a letter from an old friend of the family, a retired physician who now lives in California but who once practiced in New York. His name is Dr. Clarence C. Lieb, and, 20 years ago, I had taken my father to him because of his critical physical condition.

"I am saddened," the doctor wrote, "by the news of your father's death. He lived much longer than his physical condition of twenty years ago promised. I am confident that it was his fine mind and superb spirit which added greatly to his longevity. It was a privilege to have served him professionally. I bless his memory."

Charles Clifford Peale was not only a minister, he was also a physician. His intellectual curiosity and his mental vitality were tremendous. He read prodigiously and was able to master and explain books which other people, including his son, had great difficulty in comprehending. Fulton Oursler once told me that it had taken him four readings to write his condensation of duNoy's "Human Destiny" for Reader's Digest. Of course, Fulton did a masterful job as always. He said that my father helped him greatly, as he had mastered the difficult book so thoroughly that his explanations were amazingly clear.

MY FATHER didn't give up very easily and he didn't permit his sons to give up. He always told us, "The Peales never quit." When I was writing my book, "A Guide to Confident Living," which became a best seller, I became discouraged with my work and literally threw it away. He rescued the manuscript and found a publisher for it.

He loved to speculate about the world and everything in it, the stars, and man, and God. He reveled in philosophy. He loved all of nature and, strangely enough, became one of the greatest amateur authorities on snakes. Even after arthritis crippled him so that he could hardly use his hands, and a series of strokes confined him to a wheel chair, he could always think, and think he did. He became interested in astronomy and studied the heavens from his chair. He was one of the finest conversationalists I ever knew and discussed the greatest questions with charming wit and inspiration. People loved to sit at his feet and listen. He put the touch of glory on everything he handled intellectually.

Finally, the day came when a new stroke took away his speech and he could no longer form words. The last thing he ever said to me, and I had to get right down with my ear to his mouth to hear it, was: "I am studying heaven. Scientists say, 'It's in the Milky Way.' . . . Tonight look at the Milky Way."

WHEN HE DIED the doctor came from the room and said, "The light of reason was in his eyes until I closed them." How my father would like that statement.

Charles Clifford Peale lifted himself above his physical difficulties by a mighty upthrust of courage and spirit and mental alertness and faith. And it was that which kept him alive twenty years past his time. Crippling limitations and pain could not dim the happiness that welled up in him in each of those twenty new years that followed his first desperate illness. He lived in the mind and spirit and in the soul, and so life never lost its fascination for him.

A distinguished English physician once said, "There is no tissue in the body that is not governed to one degree or another by spirit." That is why the body that contains an active and a curious mind and a spirit that is in touch with spiritual greatness is not — and cannot be — defeated by disease or illness.

So as you move out into this New Year of 1956, put yourself in touch with God's greatness. Live in the mind and spirit. Love life and people and the world and so gain a source of energy and power that will last for many happy new years. The Scriptures give the formula for vitality and joy. "For in Him we live, and move, and have our being." Keep in touch with Him, Love His glorious world and all your New Years will be happy ones.

THE SANDS OF TIME

Remember that old song which says, "the sands of time are sinking fast"? Whether we like the idea or not, it is most certainly true, and there is nothing we can do about it.

Nothing? That depends on what we mean. Assuredly we can do nothing to stop the sands of time from running through the hour glass of life, but we can do much to make those hours worthwhile, and the Church stands ever ready to help us.

The Church is made up of people like us, working together to spread the message of the gospel. The Church brings comfort to those who sorrow, gives strength to those who are weak. The Church needs us to help carry on its work. When we are busy in the Church helping others, we do not worry over the ceaseless flow of the sands of time.

Are you doing your part in the Church? Do you need its help? Its doors are open, its welcome unchanging. "The sands of time are sinking fast"—how are you spending the days and hours?

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

The Realm Of Possibility

May this be for you and yours the happiest possible New Year.

But do not expect the impossible.

The year 1956 will not be without a normal quota of setbacks and vexations.

There will continue to be a farm problem, and it will not be solved.

Politicians will talk out of both sides of their mouths.

The highway fatality and accident toll will be appalling.

The human instinct to gamble in places where gambling has been made illegal will assert itself again and again.

Many public officials will be accused of reaching into the pockets of others for money that is not theirs, and some will be guilty.

The small percentage of juveniles who lapse into delinquency will grow no smaller.

There will be tornadoes and floods.

Inflammatory remarks will be passed back and forth in the course of the national campaign for their stimulating effect on what is always blandly described by the rousers as "an aroused public opinion."

School teachers will not be able to hold a candle to their former pupils on pay day, unless the pupils, themselves, decide to be school teachers.

Automobiles will continue to multiply 50 times faster than highways designed for their safe use.

Disagreements inside the major political parties will be more vicious and explosive than the nominal issues between the parties.

Name-calling will be a more popular pastime in public and private life than fact-finding.

Moderates will be justified between extremists who want to gallop pell-mell into the future and extremists who want to gallop pell-mell into the past — while the moderates want to move forward one step at a time.

Unification of the armed services will continue to be an empty hope.

Whatever is going to be seen in the heavens now that the flying saucer no longer is officially preposterous will be seen — and its existence will be denied by government spokesmen.

Meanwhile, other spokesmen, both public and private, will be affirming and denying the existence of many other things which the public should and should not look at, according to various lights.

And the public will bumble along, being never as dumb as cynics are sure it is or as bright as reformers wish it were.

It will have its large and small triumphs and disappointments and, all things, considered will be vastly happier than those who construe public well-being in terms of spendable income, installment debt, median height, weight and intelligence levels are willing to admit it should be.

This is because the public never pays as much attention to pulse-beaters, head-shrinkers, sociologists, economists and politicians who swarm over it in their endless search for things to point to with pride or view with alarm as they are concerned with the public.

That's why a happy New Year within the realm of possibility is always within reach of those who know the realm lies.

Happy New Year!

Music For Everybody

A minor squawk with major overtones came this year from listeners who objected to radio and television's popularization of Christmas songs.

The complaints were based on a belief there is only one permissible way to play the music associated with Christmas and that to play it any other way is desecration. The permissible way, of course, is the traditional way.

There also were complaints against topical music in the fashion of the now world-famous song about Rudolph, the red-nosed reindeer. This year, the newcomer was a strident ditty about a brat who wasn't going to get "nuttin'" for Christmas and didn't deserve "nuttin'." Last year it was about a rhinoceros, or a hippopotamus, or maybe someone's front teeth. It's unimportant.

Here, again, the traditionalists were offended. Music has become such common fare, thanks to electronics, that people now are universally aware of it. Otherwise, there would be no complaints. Today, music is for everybody—high-brows, low-brows and all the rest of us. There is something for us all.

There is even a growing acceptance of the idea that rhythm-and-blues music is not inferior in itself, though it originated in and was featured in some of the gamiest places east of Singapore's water front.

As for traditionalists, who will be with us always, they have a right to any style of music they prefer. There are all kinds to choose from, just as there are all three qualities—good, bad and indifferent.

Religion In And On The Job

The High Resolve

By EUGENE CARR

A good friend recently spoke of how he had managed not to smoke for more than a year.

"I give it up one day at a time," he said. "Every morning I swear off for just that day. I don't make any promises for tomorrow or the next day. I don't think about how long it has been since I smoked. I take each day as it comes."

As we face the new year, we could ask for no better pattern to follow in reestablishing our aims and setting the standard for the life we hope to live in the weeks and months ahead. We live one day at a time. We need only live up to our promises one day at a time.

The football coach who takes his team into a championship bowl game will tell you he is there because he played his schedule to win each single game throughout the regular season. A golfer knows that his drive off the first tee is just as important as his final putt. Life is like that. If we do a good conscientious job day by day we find ourselves piling up a record of consecutive days that soon amount to a successful year. If we try to improve our lives one day at a time an overall state of living that is satisfying and beneficial gradually unfolds and takes on permanence.

It is important, of course, to plan ahead for accomplishing the things we want to do, but the best laid plans won't get us where we want to go if we do not give careful thought and attention to each single detail along the way. We never reach our goals unless we take the necessary steps leading to those goals.

Most of us are convinced of the desirability of applying the principles of our religious faith to the daily incidents and duties in our lives. It is something we sincerely want to do. We know there is satisfaction and reward in the practice. But do we do it, day by day, wholeheartedly, and without compromise?

Do we look forward to the time when the life we live will be recognized as top-rated, but neglect the contests we encounter during "the regular season"? Do we relish the thought of the ultimate goal we want to reach, but fail to train and practice for the daily test?

When do we start? When do we begin? The answer is "here" and "now."

This is the one high resolve we can make on New Year's Day that is worthy of our best effort — to carry our religious beliefs into and through the work days of the week, one day at a time. No other resolution lends itself so readily to a day-to-day application.

With it, each day becomes another rewarding page in the current chapter of the book that is life as we truly want to live it.

Farm Family Worth $22,000

By DAVID BARNETT

What's all this moaning down on the farm?

Are the rural folks really as bad off as the political furor over agricultural income would indicate?

The average figures tell part of the story.

The average farm family is "worth" about $22,000. That's the value of the family's holdings in livestock, land, buildings, equipment and other property. For the urban family, the comparable figure is $17,000.

Farm assets this year amount to 1,663 1/2 billion dollars, an increase of 2 billion dollars in a year. The value of farm land went up 2 per cent in 1955, though it is still 3 per cent below the record 1952 level.

Net farm income this year is expected to come to about 10.6 billion dollars, a drop of about $1.2 billion from a year ago. Back in 1946, the farmer got 52 cents of the consumer's dollar; today, his share is 42 cents.

The farmer, during the last five years, has had to pay more for what he must purchase and has received less for what he has produced.

THIS IS MEASURED by what has been designated as the farm parity index. That index has dropped from 113 in February, 1951, to 81.

The figures indicate that, as a group, the American farm family is not about to go into bankruptcy. It is not making as much money as it did, however, during the lush war years. And the figures, when broken down more specifically, show that some farmers, for the first time in 15 years, are having to face life without assured profit. During the last two decades, the government has provided about 20 billion dollars to make sure the farmer made a profit and that American farms produced enough food. Production was the key to the program particularly during the war years.

While the government was calling for more production and providing subsidies if necessary to get it, scientists were making tremendous strides in increasing per-acre and per-acre productivity.

The ever-increasing output, even on reduced acreage, has resulted in surpluses held by the government valued at about 7 1/2 billion dollars and still going up.

IF THE TEXTBOOK, law of supply-and-demand were permitted to operate in such a situation, the problem would be simple. Prices for farm commodities would drop; the more uneconomical producers would be forced out of production; supply would come back into line with demand and the surplus would be gone.

There is an obvious political reason why this won't happen. Since the 1930's when the party idea of two businessmen, George N. Peck and Hugh S. Johnson, was fashioned into legislation, the government has assumed responsibility for the well-being of farmers. And group politics — farmer votes — has maintained that position.

There is also some doubt among students of the farm problem that such an economic solution would actually be one good for the country as a whole.

This theory, supported by such Democrat senators as John Sparkman and Hubert Humphrey holds that there is absolute good in maintaining the "family farm."

As they see it, pure economic manipulations to cut down farm personnel will result in even more corporation farms and fewer family farms.

THE FARM-SUBSIDY program, as it now operates, pushes large chunks of money into the hands of corporation farms. The program provides subsidies on production and the corporation farms have the production, and know how to get it even when acreage is cut.

Two million farmers, of the total 5 1/2 million farm families, grow 85 per cent of the total farm output and get the lion's share of the federal subsidy. One Mississippi company is into the Treasury for 1.3 million dollars for surplus cotton it has grown.

On the other hand, there are about 1 1/2 million farmers who manage to earn less than $1,000 each annually from their acreages.

Rep. Jamie L. Whitten (D-Miss.), chairman of the agricultural subcommittee of the House Appropriations Committee, earlier this year initiated some staff studies that he says indicated the "corporation farms" were milking the program two ways.

Besides getting vast sums from the government for surplus commodities that were stored in old Liberty Ships, the corporations, he charged, were investing in foreign farms that produced in competition with the American farmer.

THE CONGRESSMAN has continued his investigations and promises additional disclosures next month.

To face the problem of corporation farm, the Agriculture Department is expected to support a proposal that would limit to $25,000 the amount of subsidy granted to any one farm.

The limit, it is understood, has the support of the secretary of the treasury, George Humphrey, who sees in it an excellent opportunity to cut the drain on public funds from the support program.

The government has approached the farm problem in two basic ways: Increase demand by better marketing procedures and research in developing new end products for farm commodities, and cut supply as much as politics will permit.

The basic problem of supply has been stated abruptly by Assistant Secretary Earl Butz: "too many people."

THE DISLOCATIONS caused by a flight from the marginal farms are too much to contemplate, particularly during an election year.

Besides, the farmers who may be suffering do not turn to the city; they turn to politics for relief.

In Iowa, for instance, the drop in hog prices has prompted the birth of innumerable small organizations designed to take political action to obtain higher hog prices.

According to competent observers who recently toured the rich agricultural area, the swine-growers are not getting a "fair" return on their hog investment.

The fact that these farmers have done so well in the last 10 years and can take these losses without selling one of their cars does not soften their political irritation.

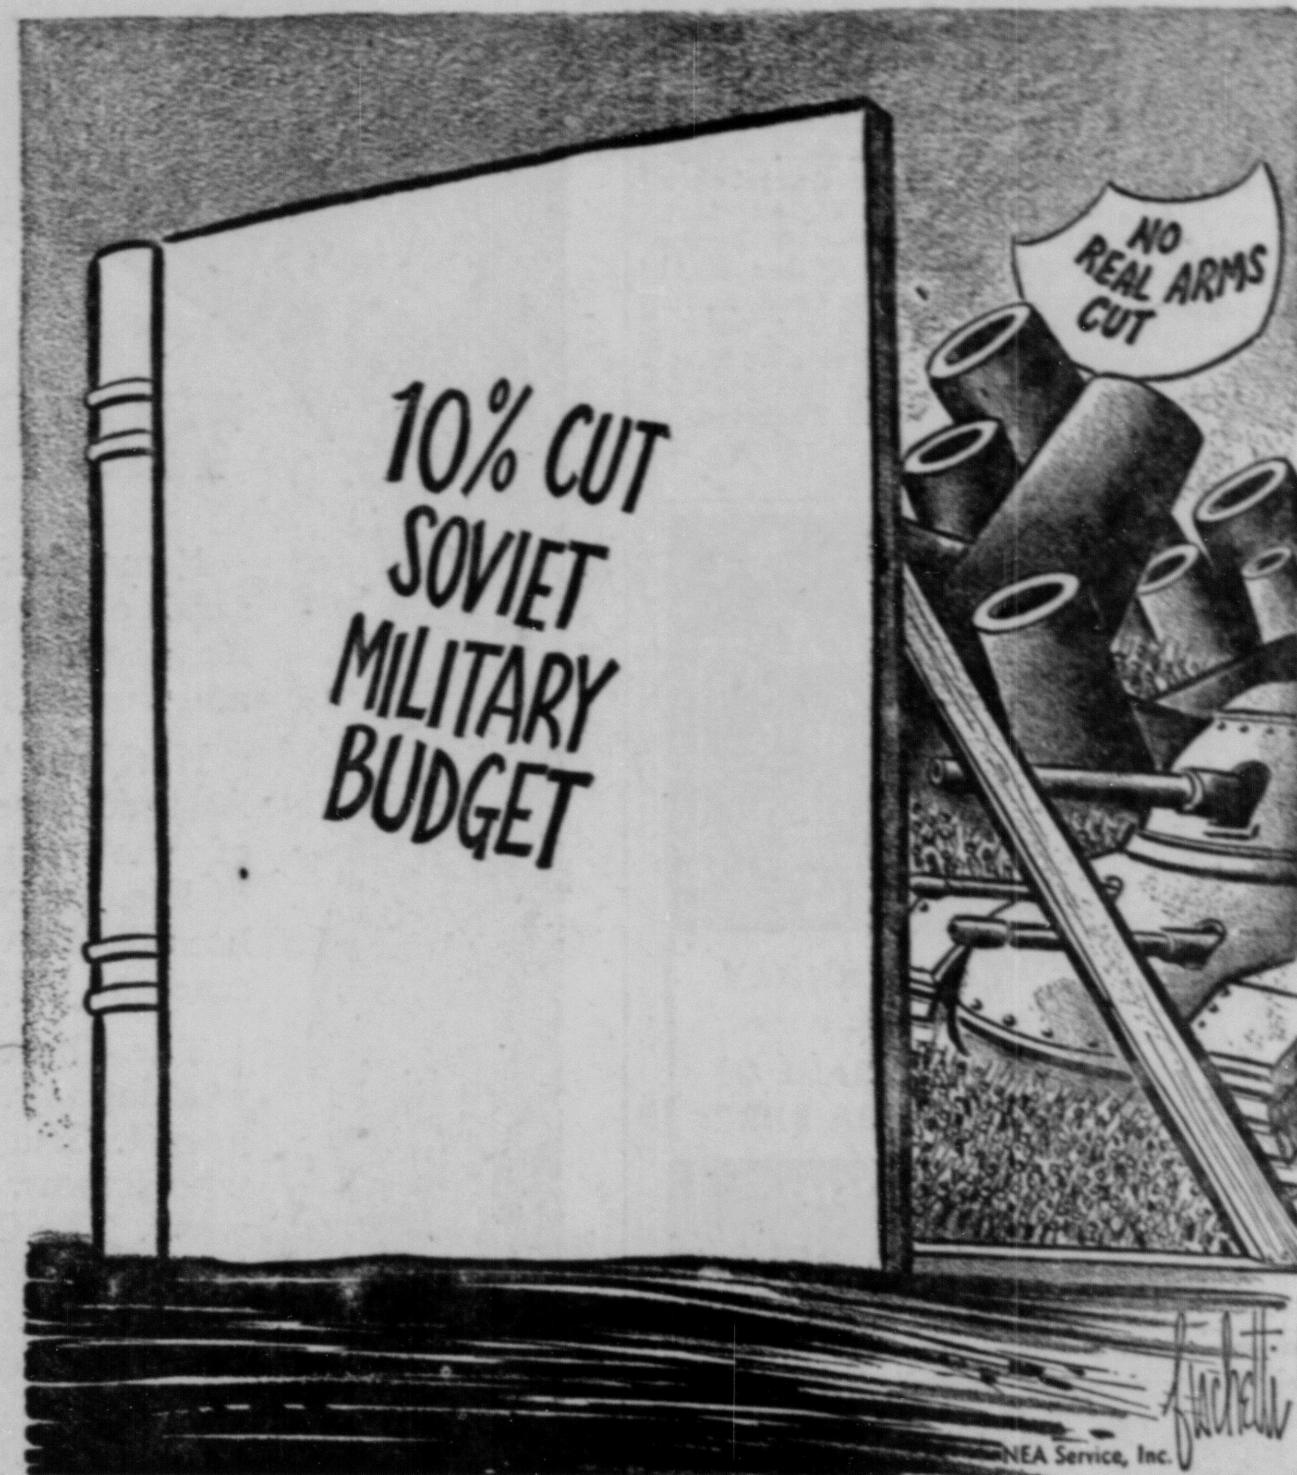

Thoughts For Today

Guessing The Trend

By DAVID LAWRENCE

This is the season of prediction on things unpredictable.

The paradox arises because the economic situation of America is intertwined with economic factors war-torn at the world, where the arbitrary action of governments rather than the initiative of individuals can mould the course of trade.

Today the United States is bolstering the economy of the entire world with billions of dollars, variously described as "military aid" or "economic aid" but adding up to the same thing—a support which if suddenly withdrawn can shatter the world's equilibrium as quickly as the Austrian bank failure did in 1929.

The American government is better prepared today to help the nation to withstand shock—better able to help by timely intervention because the factors of direct aid by loan or grant are better manipulated. But the uncertainty is by no means removed.

The prophets in the economic field say a good year lies ahead. They mean that if current trends continue, all will be well. But who says they will continue? What could suddenly interrupt them?

The year 1956 is a year of political struggle. It is the objective of the Democrats to depreciate and disparage what the Republicans have done. The Republicans, on the other hand, must boast of their achievements — of "peace and prosperity."

WHO SAYS THAT both peace and prosperity will continue? The Russian and Red Chinese imperialists can abruptly decide to have a flare-up over Formosa that could mean a third World War. Each side would profess not to be in favor of such a conflict but sometimes local wars grow into big wars before they can be stopped.

Who says American prosperity can continue if a war breaks out and controls are imposed on the national economy? War "prosperity" — better called "inflation" — comes in due time but not at the beginning, and it is in the interval that there would be danger for the party in office if war came in 1956.

So far as the domestic economy is concerned, even in the absence of war, the chances of recession are related to overproduction, overbuying and overestimates of the buying capacity of the people. Already automobiles are not moving as rapidly on the sales side as the manufacturers would like to see. This does not necessarily mean a negative trend. It could mean a highly profitable year for the motor industry without approaching the record of 1955.

EVERYTHING is relative when peak figures are not equalled. In America, unless each year beats the preceding year, it's supposed to be bad news. Early in 1955 they were saying the year would be the second best in history and Adlai Stevenson said that wasn't good enough — he didn't like "second best."

It turns out that 1955 is about the best yet in many lines of business and the nation would be in very good shape, indeed, if every year in the next decade came close to the 1955 figures.

Unquestionably at any given time there is a momentum which carries beyond a current period. The fast-moving pace of 1955, of course, will continue well into 1956. The cautious prophets, however, are up to their old euations —they say flatly things will be good for the first half of 1956 but, as for the second half, well, maybe not so good.

Last January the predictions also were that business conditions would be favorable in the early summer that the second half would be very good, too, and the same prophets joined in the optimism.

IT ALL ADDS UP to the fact that in a huge economy, with so many complex and interrelated factors, forecasting for even as short a period as a year is a dubious adventure. The curves on the chart can go up or down with out much advance warning.

Confidence is important, and so is demand. Purchasing power is vital. If wages and incomes generally continue to rise, the demand for goods will be insatiable. Today purchasing power is phenomenally large, and so is demand.

But American prosperity today is based largely on an unusually strong confidence among businessmen. They feel they can plan with assurance—if the present administration is continued. Maybe they can under a Democratic administration, too, but for a while they'll adopt a "wait and see" attitude.

IF BY MIDSUMMER the political outlook has changed, a sharp halt to expansion plans in business, especially on the capital-goods side, can be expected.

The contrary is also true—if it looks as though the present administration will remain in power in 1957, the second half of 1956 will break records and good business conditions will prevail.

Guess right on the political trend in 1956, and you'll know the business trend, too.

Highest New Year Party

Reservations are going fast for Germany's "highest" New Year's Eve party ever.

Two restaurants, suspended 789 feet above the ground in the nation's tallest, newest and most unusual building, will officially open for business as the New Year begins.

The two restaurants are slung in a "basket" atop a new television tower that rises far above the tree tops on the outskirts of Stuttgart. Visible for miles, the new tower looks like a gleaming white smokestack with a pile of coins on the top, upon which rests an upside-down engine valve. In other words, the building looks like nothing else on earth.

The "smokestack" is a steel-and-concrete tower that tapers from a diameter of 35 feet at the base to just under 18 feet at the top. What looks like stacked "coins" are the alternate concrete and glass strips surrounding a building atop a building. This "basket" structure, the size and weight of a two-story house, is occupied by two restaurants and two observation platforms.

Food for the two restaurants will be prepared in modern kitchens at ground level and whisked by elevator to the dining tables above. Other elevators will carry restaurant patrons and sightseers from the ground to the "basket" in 50 seconds.

The two restaurants, with a capacity of 600 diners, are somewhat incidental to the tower's main purpose. It was built to provide a lofty antenna from which to transmit television programs.

The new structure, far higher than the Washington monument in the United States, is the tallest building in Germany so far. People here still haven't grown used to the sight of it looming above their town, even though it has been under construction for more than a year.

Once Over

By R. L. PHILLIPS

Forecasts For 1956

JANUARY — First rocket to moon will be reported seen, but it will turn out to be a Christmas toy improperly handled by a parent. Eric Johnston will begin his 1956 protection of the kids from evil movies by going to Europe. There will be reports of flying saucers. They will be traced to a curious situation in which Secretary Dulles, going to Europe by plane, passes himself coming back. There will be 278 inquiries into juvenile delinquency. There will be a French cabinet crisis. The country will be rocked by a rumor a New Haven Road train got in on time.

FEBRUARY — One hundred fifty million Americans will ask Ike, "Will you run for a second term or do you want to consider the question and come back next week, bringing an expert?" A man will announce he has completed the first earth satellite and will launch it if he can get the Gabor Sisters to fly it. Arthur Godfrey will buzz another plane and dismiss six members of his staff without warning. . . . Nashua will discover $1,250,000 was the last quotation on him (ex dividend) and will refuse to go the post without a proxy fight. There will be a French cabinet crisis.

MARCH — President Eisenhower will do what Mamie says about a second term. Rita Hayworth will introduce the two-plateon system in consultations with lawyers. There will be 136 inquiries into juvenile delinquency.

Four Hollywood producers will violate their own movie code. Eric Johnston will be unavailable for comment due to speaking engagements. Khrushchev will charge that Omar Bradley, not Hitler, invaded Poland, Czechoslovakia and France.

Sixteen conventions to consider safer auto driving campaigns will be delayed in opening, due to collisions between delegates en route to the sessions.

APRIL — Nashua will be scratched for a Price-Waterhouse audit and a quarterly meeting.

MAY AND JUNE—(See April).

JULY — Nashua will be scheduled for a race with Swaps but will refuse to complete unless ridden by the Hanover Bank.

AUGUST — More reports of rockets to the moon. They will turn out to be Brooklyn Dodger fans who started for Ebbets Field and discovered the game was in Jersey City. There will be a French cabinet crisis.

SEPTEMBER — People from the north will flock to Florida to get out of the hurricane belts. Nashua will run a race with General Dynamics Corporation and A.T. & T.

OCTOBER — Somebody will introduce a TV jackpot show in which the winner gets control of Standard Oil of New Jersey, a 10-year lease on Fort Knox and the Kohinoor diamond. There will be 367 juvenile delinquency inquiries.

NOVEMBER AND DECEMBER — There will be a French cabinet crisis. A woman quiz program contestant will win $100,000 identifying the songs "Home, Sweet Home" and "America." Nashua will be merged with du Pont. A New Haven Road train will get in only two hours late. Rita Hayworth will be married or divorced or something. Eric Johnston will return from an extended European trip and say, "No comment" when asked about widespread violations of the cinema code. Nashua will be challenged to a race by Sears Roebuck, Montgomery Ward and the President of the New York Stock Exchange. Louis Wolfson will try to get control of Nashua in a proxy fight.

Mayor Reports On Appointments

Democrat Committee
Plans Annual Session

COLUMBIANA—Although the two-year term of Mayor-elect E. L. Calvin, democrat, does not begin until tomorrow, Jan. 1, and his first council meeting will be at 7 p.m. Tuesday, he has already announced his appointments. He was to be sworn in today by Solicitor Jack Kuhlman in Kuhlman's office. Kuhlman, who served this year by appointment of Mayor Walter Thomas on the resignation of Attorney John L. Hutson, will be retained as solicitor along with Street Commissioner Carl Spratt, the other appointive officer, who served during the two terms of Mayor Thomas.

As mayor, Mr. Calvin will have a council of four Republicans, Herbert Souder, president of council, Arthur Myers, Walter Miller and Clifford Orr, and two Democrats, Charles Fisher and Gaylor Zellers, the only new member, the other five having been re-elected. The new mayor will have these council committees: Finance, Miller, Fisher and Myers; streets and sidewalks, Orr, Souder and Zellers; safety, Zellers, Souder and Fisher; building, Myers and Miller; firemen's pensions, Orr and Myers; police pensions, Souder and Zellers. An additional member of each pension committee is to be a citizen not a member of council, to be named later.

During his previous term as mayor in 1950-51, Mr. Calvin advocated the adoption of a building code for Columbiana.

Members of the board of public affairs will also begin their two-year terms. The members of the board, C. M. Hoover, Carl Keller and John Barrow, all Republicans, were re-elected.

Edwin B. Dillon, who has been with the Citizens' Savings Bank in Columbiana since 1946, will succeed Lester E. Fisher Monday as manager of the Leetonia branch of the Citizens' Bank. Fisher is retiring after 13 years with the Leetonia bank under the bank's pension plan.

Dillon, a resident of Fairfield Township, has been active in community affairs of Columbiana and Fairfield Township as a member of the Columbiana Chamber of Commerce, the Rotary Club, the Historical Society of Columbiana and Fairfield Township, and Fairfield school district. He was one of the opponents of the consolidation of the Fairfield and New Waterford Schools, and was elected in November to the board of the new district. With Paul Wise, the other opposing member elected, he was sworn in yesterday.

Tracy Powell, another employee of the Citizens' Bank in Columbiana, becomes a teller in place of Mr. Dillon.

COLUMBIANA COUNTY Democratic executive committee will have its annual business meeting at Valley Golf Club at the western edge of Columbiana Wednesday evening. The meeting will be preceded by a dinner at 6:30. Don R. Gosney, county chairman, announced today. "All persons interested in seeking county office will be welcome," he said.

Democrats who have announced for county office and who will be in attendance at the meeting are: Vincent C. Judge for re-election as county treasurer; Albert Kittredge, East Liverpool city patrolman and Wilbert Taylor, Liverpool township constable, for sheriff; C. C. Leatherberry former mayor of Wellsville, and Robert Barnett, Knox township turkey and dairy farmer, for county commissioner; John Lippert of Leetonia for clerk of courts; Mrs. Minetta L. Kyser of Leetonia, Columbiana county Democratic chairman of the women's division, for county recorder; Herbert Artman, Salem attorney and resident of Letonia, for prosecuting attorney.

KAISER PLANT PROGRESS—Pictured above are two general views of progress on the $4-million Kaiser Aluminum and Chemical Corporation's new basic refractories plant being built just west of Columbiana. In the top photo, looking into the future location of the plant warehouse, structural steel that was delivered this week lays ready for erection next week. According to Blaine Thompson, assistant general manager, masonry work at the site is 75 per cent complete with only machinery foundations like the ones pictured in the bottom photo to be poured.

New contracts were recently awarded to the D.D. Davis Construction Co. of Youngstown and covers construction of the main mill building, administration building, a track hopper, an oil storage building and an outdoor electric power substation. Altogether there are six subcontractors working on the project. The plant is scheduled to be in operation by early next summer, employing 100 persons.

is also said to be a probable candidate for sheriff. Gosney said there are ticket vacancies for engineer, coroner, and the new common pleas judgeship for Columbiana county, for which candidates are expected by Feb. 8, the filing deadline.

D. James Gaughn, Columbiana truck stop operator, has announced his candidacy for representative from Columbiana county in the state legislature. He is a member of the county Democratic executive committee.

Members of the Kiwanis Club will attend the second of the community religious emphasis week services, which will be held in Grace Evangelical and Reformed Church at 7:30 p.m. Monday. The Rev. Elam West of Cleveland, president of Northeast Ohio Synod of the Evangelical and Reformed Church, will be the guest preacher.

The club will meet at Heck's Restaurant at 6:30 p.m., when the program will be in charge of the committee on the support of churches, Warren Miller, chairman.

The Rotary Club has provided for a color TV of the rose bowl parade and game at Pasadena, Calif., Monday evening at Valley Golf Club, with a smorgasbord at half-time. Visitors will be welcome.

Miriam Circle will make plans for the new year at its meeting in the Presbyterian church at 8 p.m. Tuesday. Mrs. Rack Weyman will conduct devotions, and Mrs. Clarence Baker and Mrs. Robert Barrow will be hostesses.

An attendance contest to continue three months will be started at a meeting of the Daughters of the King in Jerusalem Lutheran church at 8 p.m. Tuesday. In the contest, Mrs. Ernest Werner will be chairman of the Mary group, and Mrs. Harry Eberhardt of the Martha group. It will continue three months, the loser to provide the entertainment and lunch at the April meeting. "Happy Birthday to You" will be the theme of the meeting Tuesday, when response to roll call will be "My Happiest Birthday Recollections." Mrs. Royden Walker will have charge of devotions, and Miss Ruth Henry of the "birthday jubilee mix." Mrs. Robert Tieman will have charge of the birthday offering, and payment of dues is scheduled.

Leetonia Mayor Sworn In, Begins Third Term

LEETONIA—Mayor Paul Sevensch, elected Nov. 8 to serve his third consecutive term as village mayor, has been sworn into office by Judge Louis Tobin. Mayor Sevensch took the oath of office Friday morning, Dec. 23 at 10 a.m. in Probate Court at Lisbon. He will begin his new two-year term Jan. 1.

Mrs. Mary Mossman is visiting her son, Mr. and Mrs. Marion Mossman and family of Cheswick, Pa.

Mrs. Mae Shontz and Mrs. Eva Ashley are visiting Mrs. Ashley's daughter Mr. and Mrs. James Bernethy of Flint, Mich.

The Knights of Columbus and the K. of C. Women are sponsoring a card party at the K. of C. hall Sunday at 8 p.m. Lunch will be served and prizes awarded.

Mr. and Mrs. George Wire have returned from a visit in Boston, Mass. While there they visited their cousin, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Gotthardt and family.

4-H MEETING SET

Members of the Columbiana County 4-H Dairy Club will meet Thursday, Jan. 26, at 8 p.m., Floyd Lower, county extension agent, said today. He said the meeting will probably be at St. George Catholic Church Parish Hall in Lisbon. The meeting was originally scheduled for last Thursday.

Student Says Survival Of Church Is Miracle

ATHENS, Ohio (AP)—A Lutheran theological student from Rockford, Ill., says "one of history's major miracles has been the survival of the church... because of the ineptness of those within the church."

Norman A. Hjelm told the 17th quadrennial Student Ecumenical Conference on the Christian World Mission last night the church has continued "in spite of the stupidity and perversity of its members."

Addressing 3,500 delegates on the Ohio University campus, Hjelm said three affirmations are needed in the student Christian movements of the world. These are:

1. Knowing the church. 2. Learning the relation of truth to love. 3. Willingness to accept the risk of prayer.

4-H CLUB MEETS

About 30 young people were present Thursday when the Columbiana County 4-H Junior Leadership Club gathered at Lisbon Grange Hall for a business meeting and party. Club members discussed having combined meetings with Juvenile Grange and Youth Leadership for quarterly meetings. Square dancing and games provided the entertainment and the Stitch and Chatter 4-H Club served the refreshments.

Patsy Kelly Is Bride Of Roger Ryan

Miss Patsy Jean Kelly, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Kelly of Salem and Roger Ryan, son of Harry Ryan of W. State St., were united in marriage Christmas afternoon at 4:30 in the local Salvation Army chapel.

Captain Shirley Brown officiated at the candlelight ceremony. The chapel was decorated throughout with poinsettias.

The bride wore a gray suit complemented with a corsage of white pompons. Her attendant, Jean Solomon, wore a blue dress with a corsage of yellow pompons. Charles Ingledue was best man.

The twenty-third psalm and Articles of Marriage were read by Captain Brown, and a song, "Spirit Divine Thou Loveliest and Lowly," was sung by the congregation. Captain Judith Small sang a solo, "Let Me Love Thee Saviour."

A reception was held in the corps recreation room. Refreshments were served to 50 guests.

Mrs. Ryan will reside with her mother on E. 3rd St. and after the completion of his leave, the bridegroom will return to Great Lakes Naval Training Center, Ill.

Pvt. and Mrs. George Huston of Fort Knox, Ky., are spending a few days with relatives here.

Grain Supplies Continued To Pile Up During 1955

CHICAGO (U)—Grain supplies continued to pile up during 1955 and so did the political commotion they created.

We have wheat. We have corn. We have oats. And if we could ask for anything more, it would be for some way to get rid of them—without instigating international ill will in the process.

With a presidential election year coming up, the political commotion inspired by the farm problem, of which grains constitute an important section, promises to become more intense. New farm programs will pop out all over when Congress reconvenes.

Acreage allotments were in effect in 1955 for some grains. These restrictions did cut down production of grains to which they were applied. But not enough. The country continued to produce more than it could either eat or export.

Wheat production totaled 916 million bushels, down 6 per cent from 1954 and off 21 per cent from the 1944-53 average. But carryover from previous crops totaled 1,021 million bushels. The government made strenuous efforts to export the wheat it owned.

But, as the Agriculture Department sees it, the supply of wheat at the end of the current marketing year (June 30, 1956) will set a new record.

In corn, many farmers overplanted their acreage allotments. A crop of 3,183 million bushels was produced despite a summer drought in the Midwest. Total supply—which includes corn from previous crops—set a record on Oct. 1 of 4,208 million bushels. Oats production set a record. As land was taken out of cotton and wheat by acreage allotments, farmers put it in other cereals. One result was an enormous grain sorghum crop. Feed grains and concentrates are at record levels.

Auto Industry Records Fell With Regularity During 1955

DETROIT (AP)—Records topped with startling regularity in the auto industry in 1955.

New high marks were set in total production, total retail deliveries, gross product valuation, total manufacturers' net profit and worker earnings.

General Motors, Ford and Chrysler, accounting for 95 per cent of industry output, and sales, had net earnings in excess of 1 1/2 billion dollars.

The three companies, together with American Motors (Nash-Hudson) and Studebaker-Packard Corp., built more than eight million cars and 1 1/4 million trucks. These vehicles had a wholesale value of more than 14 billion dollars. In unit output the old record was 6,656,910 cars and 1,295,695 trucks built in 1950. They had a wholesale valuation of $10,175,885,000.

The record mark in wholesale valuation, however, came in 1953, when 6,116,948 and 1,206,266 trucks brought $11,091,640,000 wholesale.

Organized labor won new contracts including provisions for supplemental layoff pay.

Plans were announced for the sale of stock in the Ford Motor Co. Chrysler Corp. made huge strides in its comeback campaign and disclosed plans for a possible billion expenditure for additional expansion in the next five years.

Ford and General Motors announced additional appropriations of 625 million dollars and 500 million respectively, for their postwar expansion programs. This brought Ford's postwar total to date to $2,342,000,000 and GM's to four billion.

Approximately 964,000 production workers received $3,950,000,000 in wages.

The industry's retailers sold an indicated 7,600,000 new cars. Their picture, however, was somewhat derided of the industry. Once again the record-smashing production pace lessened than that of the remainder of them to widespread price discounting; some sold new cars, at only a nominal markup, to used car dealers to ease the pressure of huge inventories; others gave unprecedented allowances on used cars offered as down payment on new ones.

The year also brought greater emphasis on safety features in car construction, increased horsepower and higher compression ratios in car engines and higher prices generally for new models. Engineering innovations included push button gear shifting in some makes of cars.

General Motors again led the industry in output, sales and net profits. Its statement for the year's first nine months showed it built more than half of the industry's total vehicles and had a net profit in excess of 900 million dollars. That appeared to make a billion-dollar total for the year a certainty. Ford made no public disclosure of its earnings, but Ernest R. Breech, its chairman, said they would top the net of any previous year. This led to speculation the figures may exceed half a billion dollars.

Chrysler's net for the first nine months was more than 70 million, against three million in the same 1954 period.

Atom Power To Begin Payoff

By FRANK CAREY

Major research developments in the quest for economic industrial power from the atom can be expected among the science highlights of the coming year.

The Atomic Energy Commission says that during 1956 it will "be getting into the payoff area" towards the objective of determining when, and by what specific means, atomic fuel can be made generally competitive with power fuels from conventional sources.

During the year, says the AEC, "test operation" will begin for three out of a total of five different types of experimental "reactors" — or "atomic furnaces" — which the commission says theoretically "look promising" for pointing the way to economic power.

The commission says these reactors, and other test types to follow them, will begin to give major answers to questions about operating and other costs—information which will be necessary before the commission can make any forecasts about when competitive atomic power can be realized.

Geophysical Year
Among other expected science highlights of the year:

1. Perfection of plans by the United States and some 40 other nations for the International Geophysical Year in 1957-58 when history's greatest study of the earth, her oceans and the atmosphere above her will be made.

Among other things, development of work on the United States' man-made satellites — planned for orbiting at heights from 200 to 800 miles above the earth—will be completed.

2. New findings about the inner structure of the atomic nucleus — research into which was further sparked recently by the discovery of a new sub-atomic particle, the antiproton.

3. Intensification of projects designed to study the effects of atomic radiation on man's health and environment.

Medical Hopes
In the fields of surgery and medicine, these are among possibilities for 1956:

1. Development of a surgical technique for replacing sections of diseased coronary arteries, or "unplugging" such arteries that are clogged up.

2. Further improvements in the already highly successful Salk polio vaccine. Also, a stepped-up research attack in the whole field of virus diseases.

The U.S. Public Health Service recently revealed hopes to have the Army test an experimental vaccine recently developed by the service against three of the dozen or more so-called "APC" viruses which can cause a grippie type of respiratory infection. The researchers stress, however, that the APC viruses constitute only one group among many viruses which can cause cold-type illnesses.

3. New information about the cause of cerebral palsy — information which may develop from an intensified research attack to be spearheaded by the government.

4. Broader use of the relatively new tranquilizing drugs — chlorpromazine and reserpine—as aides in treatment of certain forms of mental illness.

There are nearly 500 species of humming birds. The United States is the summer home for about 16 species.

Farm Problem May Be Major Question In 1956 Vote

By OVID MARTIN

The new year may be one in which the nation makes vital decisions for its economically ailing agriculture.

Smarting under five years of declining prices and incomes, many farmers and political leaders are demanding that the government develop more effective programs to stabilize agriculture.

These demands will lead Congress to consider new farm legislation and in all probability make farm problems a major issue in this year's presidential and congressional elections.

Debate over the issue is most likely to turn on the question of whether or not the government should play a greater role than ever before in regulating and controlling farm production, marketing and prices.

The Eisenhower administration has taken the position that government controls should be reduced to a minimum and that agriculture should have a maximum of freedom in determining its course.

On the other hand, many farm policy critics — which include some Republicans as well as Democrats — contend that the government must take a greater role in agriculture—at least until war-inspired overproduction can be adjusted to peacetime demand if farming is to be kept out of a bankruptcy that could bring on a national depression.

This controversy over the government's proper role could well affect the future of the GOP farm chief, Secretary of Agriculture Benson. Demands were made last year by some farm groups and political leaders for his removal, but President Eisenhower stood firmly back of his Cabinet officers.

Unless Congress directs the use of large-scale production payments or other subsidies to boost farm returns, it is likely that — barring an international emergency — agriculture income will decline further this year. It took a 10 per cent drop last year to put returns more than 25 per cent below post-war peaks.

Given favorable weather and other production factors, it appears likely that farm production this year will be as large, if not larger than last year's record volume. Increased use of machinery, better seeds, more fertilizers and the like are making it possible for farmers to produce more and more on the same number of acres.

On the other hand, there is little to indicate any sizeable increase in domestic and foreign demands for farm products. In fact increasing production abroad is serving to reduce export markets for U. S. farm production.

Vincent C. Judge, Columbiana County treasurer, vs. Georgia V. Aten; sale confirmed; deed and distribution ordered.

State of Pennsylvania on behalf of David L. Cain vs. Etta Pettit Burlingame; case dismissed by plaintiff at its costs.

Herman Lee Moxley vs. Alberta Moxley; plaintiff found $40 in arrears on support payments but will not be punished for contempt if he makes payment.

Esther Jane Smith vs. Clarence H. Smith; rule allowed requiring defendant to appear Friday, Jan. 13, at 10 a.m. to show cause why he should not be punished for contempt.

New Cases
Joseph Imburgia of Wellsville vs. Lawrence Railing of Toronto; action for $491.20 for damages in an automobile collision.

State of Ohio vs. Fred W. Polen of Salineville; appeal of a $10 and cost fine returned Nov. 8 by Mayor Peter F. Marra Jr. of Summitville on conviction of speeding.

U. S. Church Roster Grows

Membership Record
May Be Established

By GEORGE CORNELL

Church membership figures for the United States will pass the 100-million mark in 1956.

With the proportion of the population having religious affiliation steadily increasing, this interest will be projected more sharply into other spheres particularly the schools.

Already a ferment has developed over the extent of American religious illiteracy, stemming from the blackout of religious education in the public schools.

This problem seems bound to come under intensified scrutiny in the months ahead, as the various faiths confront their own educational limitations, the rising parental demand for religious training and the sensitive bounds separating religion and state institutions.

In a similar category, the struggle of America's heterogeneous religious bodies to find a more positive, mutually helpful accommodation with each other is likely to continue.

Throughout the year, research and religious meetings sponsored by the National Council of Churches will diagnose interchurch relationships, the studies culminating in a continent-wide conference on unity in 1957.

This kind of thing is symptomatic of an insistent urge toward spiritual fellowship that crosses denominational and national borders in these days of atomic nerves.

The World Council of Churches with its Protestant Orthodox ties and its hospitable inclination toward the Roman Catholic Church, is one of the products of the mood.

The movement may even reach into Russia soon. Qualified overtures have been made to the Russian Orthodox Church. The tentative, scouting excursions a few American churches made this past year into Russia are apt to become a two-way flow of official delegations in 1956.

At home, with the Federal courts striking at racial segregation in state institutions, the churches will be striving to keep up in their own domain.

So far, the Roman Catholic Church, with its unified authority, has been the most forthright in cracking down on segregation, as evidenced by Bishop Waters in North Carolina and Archbishop Rummel in Louisiana.

By its nature, the Catholic Church seems to be taking the lead in this field, so far as concrete steps are concerned, which may have profound influences on colored people.

But others also are at work. The northern Presbyterian church has declared on "operation desegregation" for 1956. Methodists, at their quadrennial assembly, will debate anew the retention of a separate Negro division within the church.

Northern Presbyterians will vote on ratification of a plan to permit ordination of women. The same question is to come up before the Central Conference of American Rabbis.

World's 10-Year Hangover Plagues Foreign Affairs

By J. M. ROBERTS

The world will not have to work up a hangover New Year's Eve in order to start 1956 with a headache.

A 10-year accumulation of headaches will be ever-present, and some may be added.

The cold war promises to be come worse, with an economically strengthened Russia competing more actively for the minds of peoples. Hot was not to be expected, unless it should develop through outbreaks in such spots as the Middle East or the Formosa Strait.

Britain and the United States will have to revamp policy to meet the threat.

The West German situation will remain in something of a balance.
Rising nationalism will threaten her unity with the West, but she will get started on rearmament to even up with Russian efforts in East Germany.

As French political instability continues, the United States and Britain will assume more and more responsibility for Western policy. But France will rock along, without resort to totalitarianism.

War in the Middle East will be avoided, but only because of continuous Allied pressure on Egypt and Israel.

The campaign of submerged peoples for a place in the sun will be intensified. European countries which still seek to maintain colonial or semi-colonial operations will find their positions gradually deteriorating. Indonesia, Burma, India, and North Africa will move farther away from the West, and will not return until they have gained some maturity and lost some fear. Russia will be working these fields with every effort to make Communist hay.

There will be a good bit of marking time in Allied circles while the United States decides who shall be the next president. As long as her officials are handicapped by politics in making controversial decisions, so long there will be no firm leadership of the free world.

Record Home and Auto Building May Slacken

Business will move into new high ground in 1956 — order backlogs are high enough to assure that.

It may well be America's first 400 billion dollar year. The total tally on goods and services was approaching that annual rate as 1955 bowed out.

And most businessmen are betting that the first half of the new year will see higher sales, a little higher prices, higher wages, more jobs, more business spending for expansion and at least as much consumer buying as in booming 1955.

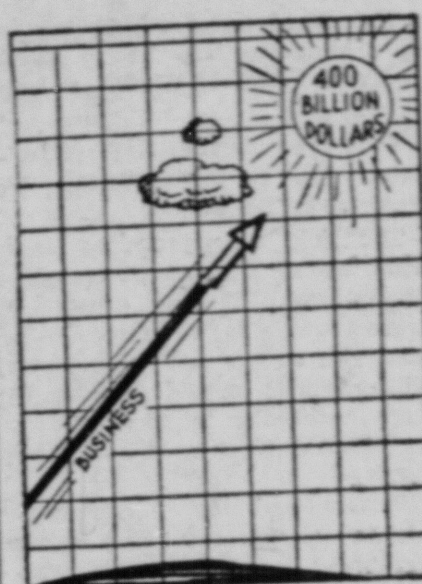

But at midyear they'll start crossing their fingers. Electioneering — always unsettling for business — will get going strong. Labor strife is possible in such basic industries as steel, if unions push hard for the guaranteed annual wage. And the boom itself will have reached an age when the economic doctors would expect a slowdown.

The majority of businessmen now answering business guessing-game polls are betting that any such slowdown in the last half of the year won't outweigh the gains they see as sure in the months just ahead. They expect the final tally for 1956 as a whole at least to equal, and perhaps top, record-setting 1955.

Slowdowns — if they come — may start first in home building and possibly later in auto sales. These were pace setters in 1955.

A drop in home building is expected, but credit will probably be manipulated to keep it slight. How long Americans will keep on buying cars at a record rate is any one's guess. The year starts with people already in hock for a record 14 billion dollars on the cars they are driving.

Consumers, who added to their debts in 1955 at a faster rate than they increased their hoard of savings, are the chief unknown quantity in the economic equation. If they turn around and pay off present debts instead of buying more things on time, and start saving more and splurging less, a lot of the starch would be taken out of the business boom.

Chief offsetting factors are general business optimism and long-term planning. Numerous corporations have announced expansion programs. They say they'll pour out more than 33 billion dollars for new plant and equipment, a sizable gain over 1955. Business also was on an inventory build-up tack as the old year waned.

Government expenditure should be up a little — any drop in federal spending to be more than offset by increased shelling out at the state and local level.

Given sustained consumer spending, the economy should find the increase in business and government spending making up for any slowdown in home building and auto sales.

Business hopes for continued consumer spending are built on these factors:

1. Expectation that the anticipated increase in prices of manufactured goods will be too small to arouse resistance — especially if food prices hold stable as now seems likely.

2. Increased personal income from higher wages, full employment, and probably from tax cuts.

3. New products or better products which businessmen say they'll have to dangle before the shoppers.

4. The present American tendency to live it up now and leave the future to pension plans and a paternalistic government.

Political Lineups Prepared

By D. HAROLD OLIVER

The American voter is in for an almost continuous dose of politics in 1956 with two of the big questions posed at the outset:

1 — Will President Eisenhower seek a second term despite his September heart attack?

2 — What will Congress do with the politically potent farm problem?

Answers to these questions could have an important influence on the outcome of the November elections.

Should Eisenhower get a complete recovery sign from his doctors and decide to seek another term, it would solve a lot of GOP problems and raise hopes of a Republican victory. Should he bow out, a scramble for the nomination would be on.

Democrats claim publicly they can win against any Republican next fall. Privately, they concede Eisenhower would be the hardest to beat.

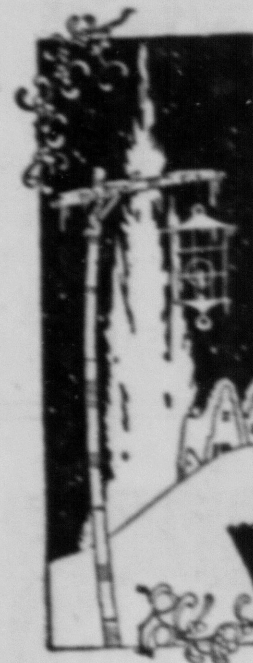

When Eisenhower will announce his intentions is uncertain. Predictions range from late January to sometime in March.

Democrats will nominate their ticket in Chicago the week of Aug. 13. Republicans choose their candidates a week later in San Francisco.

Congress, which meets in January, has half a dozen important items left from the 1955 session. It is whether to continue the Republican-backed flexible price support farm program or return to the Democratic high rigid price props.

The administration has promised a new farm program built around flexible supports. Democrats, who carried the Midwest farm states in 1948 but lost them in 1952, will push their own measure. They are making the farm question their top issue. The 1956 session of the 84th Congress will have two programs to work on, one by Eisenhower and a 13-point program prepared by Sen. Lyndon Johnson of Texas, majority floor leader. The latter includes a proposal for an income tax cut for low income groups.

From now until the New Year ends may you have good health, good friends, good cheer and abundant happiness.

San Francisco Dons Crush UCLA 70-53

By PETE PEDERSEN
The Associated Press

San Francisco is the type of basketball team that sports writers admire. The Dons make the experts look good.

Sports folks have consistently voted San Francisco tops in the Associated Press collegiate rankings this season. The Golden Gateers justified the tribute by sweeping the Eastern Collegiate Athletic Conference Holiday Festival tournament at Madison Square Garden Friday night, crushing UCLA 70-53.

Elsewhere, however, top-rated teams fared only so-so in tournament play. Utah, rated No. 7, fell before Notre Dame in the finals of the Sugar Bowl tournament 70-65. Southern Methodist handed Rice, No. 17, its first defeat of the year as the Mustangs took an overtime 76-73 thriller and the cham-

Iowa Champs Lose Third Game In Row

By The Associated Press

Iowa's defending Big Ten basketball champions lost their third straight game while Michigan State, the last unbeaten team in the Western Conference, was topped Friday night in windups before the opening of conference action Monday night.

The Hawkeyes, beaten by Washington and Stanford earlier in the week, were humiliated by California, 70-45. Michigan State was beaten by George Washington, 65-62, in the finals of the Winter Invitational basketball tournament.

Stanford's undefeated Indians racked Wisconsin, 65-53, while Michigan slipped by Brigham Young, 80-79, and Minnesota defeated Oregon State, 64-60.

Purdue is host to Princeton tonight in what finishes off pre-conference action.

Monday night's opening conference schedule has Michigan State at Illinois, Northwestern at Indiana, Ohio State at Michigan and Purdue at Wisconsin.

Iowa's loss to California gives the defending champions a record of three triumphs in seven games. Iowa does not open defense of its title until next Saturday when the Hawks are home to Michigan State.

Michigan State just couldn't stop George Washington's Joe Holup who tossed in 31 points while the Colonials held Julius McCoy, MSU's top scorer to 18 points.

It was a battle down to the end but the Spartans couldn't overcome a 13-point George Washington lead.

Dave Tucker pumped in 20 points to lead Minnesota to victory in the Dixie Classic consolation game. Accuracy from the free throw line paid off as the Gophers connected on 20 of 22 attempts.

Ron Kramer's 26 points helped Michigan offset a four-point halftime disadvantage and move onto its narrow victory. Brigham Young lost a great chance to pull the game out when Ed Pinegar intercepted the ball and broke down for a layup. He missed and the score remained 80-79.

Savitt-Seixas Tennis Tilt Set Today

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—Dick Savitt, who quit big time competitive tennis in 1952, could lay claim today to being the greatest weekend player in the world.

He has defeated America's fourth and 10th ranking players, Bernard Barten of San Angelo, Tex., and Tom Brown Jr., of San Francisco, in the last two days.

But the lack of tournament competition, which apparently hasn't hurt the 28-year-old Corpus Christi, Tex., oilman's strokes too much, may catch up with him today in the finals of the Sugar Bowl Invitational Tennis Tournament.

His opponent, Davis Cup veteran Vic Seixas of Philadelphia, has played numerous best of five set matches this year and should be accustomed to pacing himself.

That is not the case with Savitt. He has limited his play since his retirement to weekends and an occasional tournament.

The hulking Savitt was a tired person Friday after the tense three set struggle which he won 6-3, 5-7, 6-4 from Brown, the fourth seeded player in the tournament.

Savitt's legs were bothering him after the match and his serve and ground strokes weren't as strong during the middle stages of the last set as they were in the beginning.

He finishes strong but he didn't appear to have enough left for another fast set.

Seixas appeared considerably fresher after his 6-3, 6-4 victory over the veteran Gardnar Mulloy of Denver.

The 32-year-old Seixas later paired with Sidney Schwartz of New York to defeat Henry Jungle of New Orleans and Jose Aguiro of Brazil 6-0, 6-1 in a doubles semifinal.

Seixas, topseeded in the singles, seeded doubles are the second seeded doubles team. They face Mulloy and Brown, the No. 1 seeded team in the finals today.

Notre Dame Wins Bowl Cage Title

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—Coach Johnny Jordan of Notre Dame conceded today his team may have been lucky in winning its second straight Sugar Bowl basketball championship in a hard-fought battle with speedy Utah.

The Irish rallied in the second half Friday night behind the scoring of center John Smyth and guard Bob Devine to edge the seventh-ranked Utes 70-65 for the title after Alabama took the consolation title with a 77-75 victory over luckless Marquette.

"Some might think we were lucky to win," Jordan said, "and maybe we were. This is a good team with a desire to win, but we're mighty thankful to get past Utah."

Smyth, a muscular forward who looks like he belongs on the Irish football team, tallied 27 points.

Devine, who produced 21 points for the game's runner-up honors, actually was the scoring spark in the second half with 15. It was Devine's jump shot with 6:57 left that sent the Irish ahead to stay.

Alabama forward George Linn emerged as the tournament's high scorer and just missed tying the single game tournament record as 'Bama trimmed Marquette in the consolation bracket. Linn's 35 points raised his two-game output to 52 points, 15 short of the standard set by Villanova's Larry Hennessy in 1951. Tall Terry Rand was top man for Marquette with 21.

Smyth was named the tournament's most valuable player and headed the all-tournament team which also concluded Linn's Utah's Art Bunte, Lloyd Aubrey of Notre Dame, Devine and John Glaser of Marquette.

BUY AND SELL WITH WANT ADS

In non-tournament games, fifth-ranked Iowa continued to fade in losing to California's Golden Bears at Berkeley, 70-45. Other tourists fared poorly as host Stanford tripped Wisconsin, 65-53, Butler downed Princeton 89-70, and Bradley bounced Dartmouth, 80-74.

Interest In Bowl Tilts Increases

Sentiment Shifts Toward Underdogs

By WILL GRIMSLEY

A sudden shift of sentiment toward the underdogs incited new interest today in the weekend rash of bowl football games, promising the closest rivalries in many years.

There's not more than a touch-down difference in any of the big games, according to latest odds, and some may be reduced to "pick 'em" status by kickoff time.

While Oklahoma's national champions held firm as a 7-point choice over Maryland in the "prestige" conflict at Miami, Michigan State saw its edge over UCLA in the Rose Bowl cut from 7 to 6 points and Georgia Tech, once a whopping 13-point choice, fell to 6 over Pittsburgh in the Sugar Bowl.

Fluctuating odds, on the Cotton Bowl at Dallas made Texas Christian first 7 over Mississippi, then 7½ and finally back to 7.

The fanciest of all bowl programs, matching nine of the top 11 teams in The Associated Press' final season bowl, opens today with the Gator Bowl at Jacksonville, Fla., and a trio of attractions involving picked senior players.

The largest of these is the annual East-West Shrine game at San Francisco, to be witnessed by 61,000, with Howard (Hopalong) Cassidy of Ohio State making the East squad a 7-point favorite.

Auburn is a six-point pick over Vanderbilt in the Gator Bowl at Jacksonville, Fla., where 36,000 are expected to see the 2 p. m. kickoff. The Blue forces are a slim six over the Grays in the North-South at Montgomery, Ala., and there's little to choose between the Skyline and Border Conference all-stars in the Salad Bowl at Phoenix, Ariz.

The Blue-Gray, starting at 2:30 p. m. EST, and the East-West, at 4:45 p. m., both are to be televised by NBC. The Gator Bowl is to be telecast by CBS.

The main events are scheduled Monday when some 400,000 fans will pay more than $2,000,000 to see four major bowl games and three minor ones.

Tool, Mullins, Mounts and Carl Lumber won the Class A cage tilts played in the Memorial Building Thursday night.

Libson Lumber cagers lost to Salem Tool 75-62. They were outscored 16-15 in the first period, 17-11 in the second and 25-18 in the fourth. Libson Lumber managed to outscore the winners in the third stanza 18-17.

Although Harry Baird poured in 30 points for his McCulloch's quiet Mullins still managed to slip by them by a 56-54 score. McCulloch's led at the end of each of the first three quarters, 14-9, 28-21 and 42-38 before losing in the final period when the Mullins attack rallied to outscore the losers 18-12 for the victory.

Carl Lumber overwhelmed Strouss-Hirschberg with a potent scoring attack as they led in every period to win 80-68.

A strong third quarter by Mounts when they scored 18 points to only four for Midway Motors enabled Mounts to attain its 53-47 victory in the final game of the night. Midway led in every other quarter, 13-10 in the first, 17-16 in the third and 13-9 in the final.

Michigan State, UCLA End Preparations For Rose Bowl

By ROBERT E. VOGES

PASADENA, Calif. (AP)—Michigan State and UCLA came today to the windup of weeks of preparation for their return football date Monday in the Rose Bowl.

Vanderbilt-Auburn Contest Is Sellout

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP)—Vanderbilt and Auburn launch the long New Year's weekend of football bowl games today with their clash in the Gator Bowl.

This was Auburn's third straight post-season trip to Jacksonville and the Plainsmen, who had an 8-1-1 season, were favored by a touch-down. Vandy, which won 7 and lost 3, never before had appeared in a bowl.

A sellout crowd of 36,000 was expected for the 2 p. m. kickoff. The game marked the first appearance on a national television network (CBS) for both teams.

Auburn and Vandy both rely principally on fine runners. Auburn running stars include halfbacks Bob James, the nation's fourth leading ground gainer with 879 yards; Bobby Hoppe, a sophomore speedster; and fullback Joe Childress, who has one of the fastest takeoffs in the business.

Vandy's top rushers include halfbacks Charley Horton, an outstanding ball carrier and an excellent defensive man, and sophomore Joe Scates, a swift halfback, and Phil King, a big fullback with surprising speed.

3 Grid Assistants Named At Miami U.

OXFORD, Ohio (AP)—Three new football assistants were named today to aid Miami University's head football coach, John Pont.

John Brickels, Miami athletic director, said the new assistants would be Wayne Gibson, 33, coach at Sidney, Ohio, High School; Ernest Plank, 29, now at Grove City, Ohio, High School, and Jay Fry, 26, coach at Ontario Agricultural and Veterinarians College, Ontario, Canada.

All three are former Miami football players. Plank and Fry are former teammates of Pont, who was elevated earlier this month to the head coach position after Ara Parseghian took a similar job with Northwestern University.

One holdover from the Parseghian regime will be Woody Wills, two other Parseghian assistants, Dick Ulrich and Bruce Beatty, will accompany Parseghian to Northwestern.

The three new assistants at the state university have Ohio backgrounds. Gibson is from Gallipolis, Plank is from Bexley and Fry prepped at Hamilton where his father is high school principal.

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Mike Green, second ranked junior player of this country, meets Jan Erik Lundquist of Sweden, European junior champion, in the top match of the Orange Bowl junior tennis tournament today.

The winner will meet 17-year-old John Skogstad of Coral Gables, Fla., who has assumed the role of a giant-killer in the tournament. Ranked 18th nationally, he defeated the U.S. junior champion, Esteban Reyes of Mexico City, Thursday, and followed that up eliminating fifth ranked Ron Holmberg of Brooklyn Friday.

Nature Blooms Year Around Behind Walls Of Ohio Prison

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Behind the bleak, formidable stone walls of Ohio Penitentiary nature blooms the year 'round.

The patient toil of confined men—some of whom entertain no hope of life on the outside—brings cheer to all and provides work for idle hands and minds.

The penitentiary greenhouse, the "Garden of Memories" and the flowers that dot the ground in the 22-acre plot make up "one of the finest things in the prison," in the words of Warden Ralph W. Alvis.

Lifer George Pierce, a ruddy-faced 57-year-old, supervises the entire operation. Three other inmates help out in the fall and winter months and prison officials more than double the work staff during warm weather.

Pierce had little experience with roses when he assumed the task three years ago, but he felt he was qualified for the job.

"I had a grammar school teacher who was crazy about wildlife and the like," Pierce recalled the other day. "She got us kids interested in it, and I guess I've been interested ever since. I had no experience running a greenhouse, but I had studied botany in an amateur sort of way and in my travels all over the world, gathered plants and studied them."

It wasn't an easy job getting the greenhouse assignment. Penitentiary officials agree it's one of the "choice" jobs—and finding work for nearly 4,000 inmates is a tough task.

Pierce has been in prison more than 11 years—and "I wanted the job ever since I came here."

Asked why, he said "There are two reasons. First, I love flowers and plants. Second, I knew I would put my heart into it and turn out good work."

It's obvious he's done good work.

Questions, Answers

Q — What is the origin of the superstition "Three times a bridesmaid never a bride"?
A — It stems from the idea that good or evil always happens in threes and then the fourth occurrence will be the opposite. However, if one could be a bridesmaid seven times the spell could be broken.
Q — How many paces are there to a mile?
A — Roughly, 2000 — at 2½ feet

Obituary

Harry E. Burt

MINERVA — Harry E. Burt, 64, of 117 Market St., a retired contractor, died Thursday morning at 8 a.m. in his home following a heart attack.

Mr. Burt's affiliations included membership in the Eagles, Moose, Forty and Eight and Sportsman's Clubs, the American Legion and State Highway Patrol Auxiliary. He was a veteran of World War I.

Survivors include two sisters, Mrs. John Bolen of Salem, and Mrs. Etta Johnson of Bradenton, Fla.; and a niece, Mrs. Kenneth Lodge of Salem.

Funeral services will be Sunday afternoon at 2 p.m. at the Rutledge Jackson Funeral Home with Rev. Paul, pastor of the Minerva Christian Church, officiating. Interment will be in Hanoverton Cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home tonight from 7 to 9.

Reports Attempt To Break Into Home

Mrs. Viola Kenmuir, 353 E. 4th St., reported to police that someone attempted to enter her home by prying the glass section out of the storm door of the front entrance to her home between 11:30 p.m. Wednesday and 1 p.m. Thursday.

Entry, however, was not gained. Six sections of glass were broken and the door frame was damaged, she said.

WINONA WSCS TO MEET

The WSCS of the Winona Methodist Church will meet at the home of Mrs. Albert Althouse in Winona Wednesday at 10:30 a.m. to count tax stamps. A covered luncheon at noon will be followed by a business meeting and program.

FINED IN LISBON

LISBON — Ralph Smith of RD 3, Lisbon, arrested Friday by the state highway patrol for driving left of center, was fined $20 and costs Friday by Mayor Wilbur Warren.

gathering at Mountain Spring Camp, Washington, N.J. and made statements including that: Kutcher "liked the 'Red' system of government," in the United States "half of what a worker earns goes to the government and under the 'Red' government the worker gets all he earns;" and that violence should be used if necessary to "get a new government."

Kutcher's attorneys, Joseph L. Rauh Jr. and John Sillard, contended without success that Kutcher should have a chance to confront his unnamed accusers. They said that in effect he was being accused of treason, and the committee was no place to try a man for that. Besides, they argued, just charges—not evidence—had been produced. And furthermore Kutcher was placed in a position opposite to the traditional legal concept of a man being presumed innocent until proven guilty.

pursue a more friendly attitude toward the West.

But Eisenhower saw those hopes diminish in the latter months of 1955 and then perhaps explode in Thursday's blast at the President by Nikita Khrushchev, the Soviet Union's Communist party boss. Khrushchev accused Eisenhower of having violated the spirit of Geneva and of "crude interference" in the affairs of Eastern Europe through a Christmas message broadcast to the people of that Red-dominated area.

Friday the President served notice on Russia that peaceful liberation of the people of such satellite nations "will continue to be a major goal of United States foreign policy."

In a statement approved by Eisenhower, the White House said it will be the goal "until success is achieved."

OFFICERS ARE ELECTED

Newly elected church officers and officers of church organizations will be installed Sunday morning at 11 in the Holy Trinity English Lutheran Church.

Elected Friday were William T. Bailey, Otis Flick and Dr. Howard Moore, council; Ruth Hoch, organist; Calvin Critchfield, choir director; and Mrs. Lester Lehman, flower secretary.

Youths Stabbed, Beaten In Rescue Attempts

COLUMBUS, Ohio (U)—One youth was stabbed and another beaten with a wrench in separate rescue attempts of two women last night. Police said Melvin E. Reed, 15, was beaten about the head with a wrench when he tried to help a girl being beaten by an unidentified man in a parking lot near a roller rink.

Police also said Willard A. Dague, 21, told them he was stabbed when he tried to defend a woman grabbed by a man as she was walking along a dark street.

Both "Sir Galahads" were treated for injuries. Dague was released. Reed remained in good condition at Grant Hospital.

1,250 Persons Attend Jail 'Open House'

LISBON — About 1,250 persons attended the open house for the public Friday at the new Columbiana County jail, Sheriff Howard J. Clark said today.

The sheriff said only 1,100 signed the visitor's register. Open house is being held again today from 1 to 9 p.m.

colder than the normal despite the 64 degree warm spell Dec. 4 and a "green Christmas" with 61 on Dec. 24 and 58 on Christmas Day. Sun shone 30 per cent of the time, making the month somewhat brighter than the average.

Copeland noted that snowfall which fell to three inches was down 2.7 from the 53 year average although the December, 1954 snowfall totalled 3.3 inches.

Temperatures last month averaged 29 degrees with a high of 64 and low of 5, as compared to the 1954 temperature of 30.2 with high of 58 and low of 4.

Paralyzed Polio Victim Types With Teeth

DANVILLE, Ill. (U)—The Vermillion County chapter of the National Foundation of Infantile Paralysis recently received a typewritten letter of thanks.

That didn't seem unusual to anyone but polio officials. They knew how it had been typed.

Allan Cribiez, 28, a paralyzed polio victim of near Potomac, Ill., typed the page-long letter with his teeth. He punched the keys of an electric typewriter with a plastic mouthpiece.

Cribiez, father of four children, was given the typewriter by the county chapter.

Cribiez was taken to a hospital with polio on Labor Day 1954. He later spent nearly eight months in the Illinois Research Hospital at Chicago. He can go about eight hours without artificial respiration now.
